

Summary

Euro-Arab relations have been characterized by seeking to ease tensions in the Middle East region and the pursuit of many of the motivations for ethical rehabilitation of bilateral relations. Therefore discuss this dissertation French relations and the Palestinian compare the British-Palestinian relations by focusing on the lag between the years (1970 - 2000). It talks about the attitude of both the State of the case where we can say that both were in positions of the two contexts across different periods of time and in accordance with international developments. As a policy both States showed great interest in the Middle East region, therefore sought both to support the recognition of Israel and the Alliance with support and assistance in order to be closer to the east, and in order to protect their strategic interests, economic and political. Endorsement of Israel as a pretext to serve interests of the French and British, as a new ally Israel, which will help them approached from the east.

Since both are two of the superpowers in the world on the international and European level, the attitude towards the Palestinian people has been linked to a number of considerations to influence the positions taken. Where both played pivotal role towards the Palestinian issue, which has caused many countries to move in order to put an end to tension and conflict, Based on their efforts to revive the peace talks and to find a just settlement between the Palestinian and Israeli parties will try to verify the veracity of the following premise : Although the balance of power among European States "France and Britain," Is advantage of French-Palestinian relations more harmonious relations of the British?

Is the significance of this dissertation importance of that period, which contributed to recognize the PLO. The form of recognition of the organization entrance which helped many strong international interests in the Palestinian cause, and work to assist the Palestinian people in order to alleviate their suffering and contribute to the formation of a society for people wrote to the injustice of the Israeli occupation. Perhaps the most notable of those contributions came from the party who made several European assistance through periods of time left. And the importance of that period in support of the Palestinian entity and a representative on the Palestinian Authority.

Will put the issue to a descriptive analytical approach, relying on the comparative method, and compare both policies in successive periods and clarify this relationship through analysis of the information that had been relied on by many of the previous studies and data available on the subject, and interview some Palestinian officials to break several of the recommendations and proposals that will contribute to understanding the dissertation.

And become familiar with all aspects of the topic of research has been divided into five chapters. so that the first chapter deals with an historical overview of colonial rivalry between France and Britain. Chapter II deals with the causes and motivations behind the policy of both States, and was divided into four districts : The first topic motives strategy, the second topic motives topic of economic and political motives III, The topic is the fourth regional motives. The third chapter deals with the foreign policy of both countries towards the Palestine Liberation Organization, It was divided into six districts : the first topic of an historical organization, The second topic date of the establishment of the Organization representations in both countries, This topic deals with the talk of the difficulties in the establishment of various representations and dialogues with both countries, and how to develop bilateral relations. Chapter IV Vithaddth of European aid to the Palestinian people through different points in time. and Chapter V speaks of the contributions of both States to support the Palestinian Authority. The successful end research and the conclusions that explain the outcome Senkhs this dissertation.

Through dissertation note that France played the role of the political engine of the European Union towards the Palestinian issue. Without the insistence of France for the presence in the Middle East would absent European role in the Middle East region. Since most European countries except France Aslmwa Americans of the Arab region. Because of the French policy of supporting the Palestinians to make them vulnerable to Israeli and American pressure, and accusing anti-Semitism. The British role from the beginning was not clear, as they played the role of the opposition in dealing with the PLO. In light of the subsequent tensions Britain took the issue of refugees and other humanitarian issues. Nevertheless, insisted on staying in the neutral. Based on the fundamental premise According to the documents and information we note that the French-Palestinian relations were characterized by harmony more than the British-Palestinian relations. France has played a central and effective role in supporting the Palestinian people. and the intimate friend, who has contributed over many positions to extend emergency aid to the Palestinian people and President issue.