CONTENTS

	Page
Abstract	i
Acknowledgements	ii
Contents	v
List of Figures	x
List of Tables	xii
List of Plates	xv
List of Appendices	xvii
Abbreviations	xix
CHAPTER ONE : INTRODUCTION	3
1.1 Aims	3
1.2 Sedentarization : National Attitudes and Theoretical Models	5
1.2.1 Models of Sedentarization	8
1.3 Sources of Data	12
1.3.1 Primary sources and historical maps	12
1.3.2 Official Documents and Private Collections	12
1.3.3 Field work	12
1.3.4 Personal Experience	13
1.3.5 Supporting Material	13
1.4 Organization of the Study	14
1.5 Spelling and Units of Measure	15
References	17
PART ONE : HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE
CHAPTER TWO : THE NINETEENTH CENTURY TRAVELLER - AUTHORS LITERATURE : LIMITATION AND CONTRIBUTION	19
2.1 General background	19
2.1.1 Pre-Nineteenth Century Explorers	19
2.2 The Spirit of 19th Century Travel	23
2.2.1 The significance of Travellers' Expectations	25
2.2.2 Dependence upon Local Guides	31

CHAPTER TWO (Cont) Page

2.3 The Religious Landscape 33
2.3.1 The Christian Landscape 35
2.3.2 The Jewish Landscape 37
2.3.3 The Muslim Landscape 40
2.4 Attitudes to the Nomads 42
2.5 Estimates of Galilee Bedouin Population 45
2.5.1 Jaubert (1812) 45
2.5.2 Drake (1875) 47
2.5.3 C.R. Conder and H.H. Kitchener (1880-83) 49
2.5.4 Schumacher (1886) 51
2.5.5 Salname- Wilayet-i Suriye (1884) 53
2.6 Conclusion 56
Notes and References 57

CHAPTER THREE : GALILEE NOMADISM IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY 62

3.1 Introduction 62
3.2 Pastoral Nomadism : Definition 62
3.3 The Character of Galilee Nomadism 68
3.3.1 Arab Luhaib 73
3.3.2 Arab Turkmān 74
3.3.3 Arab Luhaib Fālahāt 75
3.4 Political and Economic Factors Influencing Nomadism in Galilee 76
3.4.1 Political Conditions 76
3.4.2 Economic Conditions 85
3.4.2.1 Central Authority 87
3.4.2.2 The Private Development 88
3.4.2.3 The Location of Galilee Region with Syria 91
3.5 Evidence of Semi-nomadic Trends in the Nineteenth Century 96
3.6 Conclusion 104
Notes and References 106

PART TWO : THE PROCESS OF SEDENTARIZATION

Page

CHAPTER FOUR : UNIVERSAL CAUSES FOR SEDENTARIZATION 110

4.1 Introduction 110
4.2 Improvement of Security Conditions 115
4.3 Demographic Growth 117
4.3.1 Some Particular Cases for Bedouin Population Growth 123
4.3.1.1 Internal migration of fellaheen elements into bedouin camps 123
4.3.1.2 Population Growth after completing sedentarization 127
4.4 Socio-economic Interaction 129
4.4.1 Theoretical background 130
4.4.2 Economic Interaction 133
4.4.3 Social Interaction 137
4.5 Migration and Urbanization Trends 140
Notes and References 157

CHAPTER FIVE : SPECIFIC CAUSES FOR THE SEDENTARIZATION OF GALILEE BEDOUIN 162

5.1 The Impact of pre-State Jewish Colonization 162
5.1.2 Political Background 165
5.1.3 Areas of Jewish Land Preference 169
5.1.3.1 The British Administration Land Policy 170
5.1.3.2 The Condition of the Land 174
5.1.3.3 The Nature and Structure of Jewish Capital 177
5.1.3.4 The Attitudes of the Local Arab Inhabitants 181
5.1.4 Some Regional Cases 184
5.1.4.1 Arab Dalāyikah 185
5.1.4.2 Arab as Sumairī (Sumairī) 187
5.1.4.3 The Ka'biyyah and the Sa'āyidah Tribes 190

CHAPTER FIVE (Cont)		Page
5.2	The Control of Malaria	193
	5.2.1 The Ghawarnah	197
5.3	Social Influences	200
	5.3.1 Arab Luhaib al 'Aithah	202
	5.3.2 Arab Nu'aim	203
	Notes and References	204
CHAPTER SIX : THE ROLE OF BRITISH ADMINISTRATION 1918-48		209
6.1	Introduction	209
6.2	The effect of the Political Border	212
6.3	Land Settlement	217
	6.3.1 Arab Ṣubaih	221
6.4	Forest	230
	6.4.1 Arab Ṣubaih	234
	6.4.2 Arab Ṣuwaitat	236
	6.4.3 The Tribes of Tiberias District	237
6.5	Bedouin Control Ordinance 1942	238
	6.5.1 Arab Sa'āyidah	242
6.6	Conclusion	244
	Notes and References	246
PART THREE : THE PATTERNS OF SEDENTARIZATION
CHAPTER SEVEN : THE SPONTANEOUS BEDOUIN SETTLEMENT		250
7.1	Introduction	250
7.2	Distribution of Bedouin Settlement	253
7.3	Factors influencing the Nature of Spontaneous Settlement	260
	7.3.1 Landownership	263
	7.3.2 Military rule in Galilee (1948-1963)	268
	7.3.3 The State strategy of establishing Jewish Settlement and the related concept of concentrating bedouin population	271
	7.3.4 Size of population, family relationships and age structure	281

Page

CHAPTER SEVEN (Cont)

7.3.4.1 The Settlement Size 281
7.3.4.2 Family Relationships 286
7.3.4.3 Age Structure 287

7.4 The Development of Spontaneous Bedouin Settlements Illustrated by Six Case Studies 289

7.4.1 The Kurdish Tribes in the village Sha'ab 289
7.4.2 The Khasās (Sawālmah)and the Ghawarnah of Wad al Ḥamam 291
7.4.3 Luhaib Tuba 293
7.4.4 Zanghariyyah 300
7.4.5 Ḥujairat 302
7.4.6 The Sawāid Kammana and Wadi Sallama 307

7.5 Conclusion 317

Notes and References 318

CHAPTER EIGHT : THE PLANNED BEDOUIN SETTLEMENT IN ISRAEL 323

8.1 Introduction 323
8.2 Planning Bedouin Settlement in the Negev - Tel Sheva 325
8.3 Planning Bedouin Settlement in Galilee 332

8.3.1 Bosmat Tivon 334
8.3.2 Beit Zarzir : Spontaneous Sedentarization 345
8.3.3 Beit Zarzir : Planning Sedentarization 349
8.3.3.1 Housing Pattern 1974-1981 354
8.3.3.2 Population Growth 1969-1981 357

8.4 Conclusion 359

References 361

CHAPTER NINE : CONCLUSION 364

Appendices 378

Bibliography 403