

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	iv
Abstract	ix
Introduction	1
Part I: Theoretical Framework	13 - 45
1- Multilateralism in the Eyes of Institutionalism	13
1.1. Definition and Concept	14
1.2. The Role of International Institutions	17
1.3. Collective Action	21
2- Multilateralism in the Eyes of Neo Realists	26
2.1. Definition and Concept	27
2.2. The Role of International Institutions	29
2.3. Collective Action	31
2.4. The Balance of Threat	33

3- Democratic Domestic Politics	37
3.1. US Foreign Policy & Democratic Politics	37
3.2. The US War & the Norm of Collective Action	41
3.3. The US War & the Balance of Threat!!!	43
Part II: The Three-Case Studies of US Foreign Policy	46 - 96
4. The US War 1991 - The Persian Gulf War	49
4.1. Background	49
4.2. The US War & the Norm of Collective Action	53
4.3. The Gulf War & the Balance of Threat!!!	56
4.4. The Persian Gulf War & Democratic Politics	59
4.5. Summary and Conclusion	62
5. The War in Kosovo 1999	65
5.1. Background	65
5.2. NATO Intervention & Democratic Politics	70
5.3. The Kosovo War & the Collective Security Action	74
5.4. Kosovo War and the Balance of Threat	77

6- The Iraq War 2003	Abstract	83
6.1. Background		83
6.2. Unilateralism & the Iraq War 2003		86
6.3. Collective Action		90
6.4. Democratic Politics & the War in Iraq		93
6.5. Conclusion		95
Part III: Problems Explaining Changes in US Foreign Policy		97 - 106
7- Lessons Learned		97
7.1. Problems of Explaining US Cases		100
7.2. The Collective Security Hypothesis		106
7.3. The Balance of Threat & Unilateralism		106
Conclusion		113
Bibliography		120 - 146